ESCUELA DE ADMINISTRACION
Negocios Internacionales

ASIGNATURA
NEGOCIACIONES COMERCIALES MULTILATERALES
CODIGO
NI0759
SEMESTRE
2014-2
INTENSIDAD
24 horas semestral
HORARIO
CARACTERÍSTICAS No suficientable
CRÉDITOS 2

1. JUSTIFICACIÓN CURSO

To analyze the main challenges for trade negotiations on the current international economic order. Identify the salient issues, the main stakeholders and the loopholes in the international trading system. The course is intended to address the main debates on regionalism and trade preferential agreements as possible "building blocks" or "stumbling blocks" for multilateralism.

2. OBJETIVOS GENERALES DEL CURSO

3. DESCRIPCIÓN ANALÍTICA DE CONTENIDOS

3.1. Regional rules and multilateralism in international economic negotiations.
3.2. Effects of Preferential Trade Agreements on the global trading system.
3.3. Competitive liberalization.
3.4. Multilateralism and regionalization. The "Spaghetti Bowl approach".
3.5. Decision-making process and current multilateralism for trade related issues: facing a new crisis?
3.6. Multilateral trade agreements in a post Doha context.
3.7. Trade facilitation, preferential treatment and developing countries: who is who in the multilateral trading system.

4. EVALUACIÓN

5. BIBLIOGRAFIA GENERAL